Foreword

Clothed in pastel greens in spring, rich-robed in verdant summer dress, arrayed in brilliant fall attire, or standing stark against a somber winter sky, trees are God's poems. Observe carefully and you can hear them whispering of His love on a sweet spring day, offering shade and repose during the heat of summer, flinging back His glory in showers of fall color, and in winter lifting their lofty limbs in supplication as they vibrate with the songs of chilling winds. Yes, trees are God's poems that catch His thundering words in the wild winter winds, or His whisper in the soft summer breeze--who interpret in their own way His message of love and fling it back across our "Whispering Hills" to listening hearts.

STUDENT NURSE OF THE YEAR

Our Student Nurse of the Year is a Licensed Practical Nurse and worked several years in hospitals throughout the south before entering training here for her R.N. degree. Mo, as she is known to most of us, was born in Fayetteville, Tennessee. She has proved to be quite a leader in the school. Her Freshman year she was class president. As a Junior, she was President of the Student Council, first semester, and class representative to the Student Council second semester. As a Senior she is class treasurer and Vice-President of the Student Association and Student Council. With her pleasing personality and good sense of humor she has won many friends in her three years of training. The Underclassman have chosen Mo as Student Nurse of the Year because she is the type of a nurse they hope to be some day. We present to you Morrell Simmons, Student Nurse of the Year 1966-1967.

Freshman Year—Journey's Beginning

Long hours into the night

they study,

Anatomy,

Microbiology,

Chemistry

Then one day,

a uniform is hemmed,

a cap placed on their heads,

a candle lit,

And their journey is a reality,

They are on their way.

Principal's Message

Dear Fletcher Students:

Since the time when formal education began, students in school have been looking forward to the time when they could leave the classroom and jump into the world of adult affairs. You, too, have had your share of this. Have you, however, taken time to think of what this world might expect or demand of you, or of what kind of reception it is going to give you? Just what this reception might be is going to depend largely on what you have to offer.

Never in the history of mankind has there been such a demand for youth with trained brains and salable skills both balanced by principle and built on character. Youth without these can become a drug on a market already glutted with the poorly prepared. In view of this it might be wise thoughtfully to read again the following words:

"The greatest want of the world is the want of men,--men who will not be bought or sold; men who in their inmost souls are true and honest; men who do not fear to call sin by its right name; men whose conscience is as true to duty as the needle to the pole; men who will stand for the right though the heavens fall." -- Education, p. 57.

"The world is waiting for you, young man
If your purpose is strong and true;
If out of your treasures of mind and heart,
You can bring things old and new.
If you know the truth that makes men free,
And with skill can bring it to view,
The world is waiting for you, young man,
The world is waiting for you.

"Then awake, O young man, from the stupor of doubt
And prepare for the battle of life;
Be the fire of the forge, or be anvil or sledge--
But win, or go down in the strife!
Can you stand, though the world into ruin should rock?
Can you conquer with many or few?
Then the world is waiting for you, young man,
The world is waiting for you!"

When your classroom days are over what are you going to have to offer to the world?

Sincerely yours,
Lewis E. Nestell

DEDICATION

Many years ago you came to us and through the years you have been faithful. You have put forth untiring efforts in our behalf. You have helped us when we were homesick. You were patient with us when we were bad. Your good food has sustained us, your smile has encouraged us, your cheerfulness has lifted us, and your dining room hospitality has warmed our souls. You have always been interested in us and our problems. You never fail to try to please us, and you overlook so many of our mistakes. We, the student body, love you, our dear Miss Covey, and dedicate our portion of this annual to you.

In Memoriam

ROBERT RAY LOWDER

August 21, 1902--June 29, 1966

Mr. Ray Lowder died June 29, 1966. And he died as he had lived--quietly, uncomplainingly. He was a faithful worker, a man people took for granted; for nothing kept him from quietly doing his duty as he saw it, whether on the job, in his church, community, or home. And then "One day I missed him on the accustomed hill." God in His love had seen fit to grant Him rest. The twenty-third Psalm is an example of his quiet, serene and faithful life.

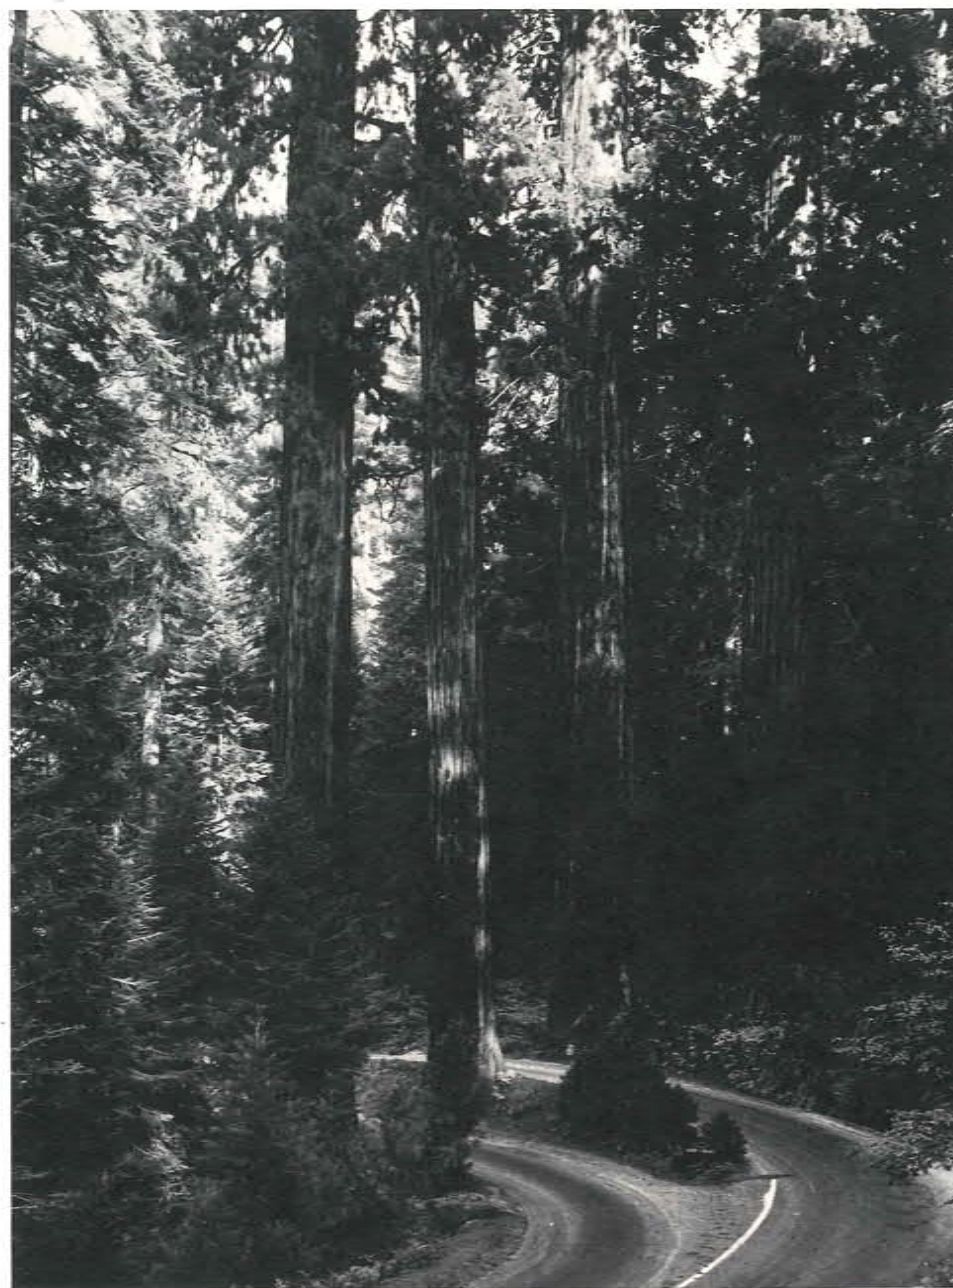

The Lord is my shepherd;
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul:
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness
For His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil:
For thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me
In the presence of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil;
My cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
All the days of my life:
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.
