WHISPERING HILLS

Whispering Hills

Fletcher, North Carolina

Bill Davis and Violet Grecian, Editors

Foreword

Fletcher Academy is nestled in a secluded valley in Western North Carolina. Tree embraced buildings dot the landscape of hill and vale. This setting gives a picture of stability, for a stately tree is the symbol of durability and strength.

This strength impresses itself upon complaining mankind. Trees never complain, even when the peaceful morning air is suddenly shattered by the buzzing whine of a chain saw, and in a few seconds another old friend has left the campus.

Another school year will soon end. Another graduation will be over, and old friends will depart from these hills. They will be missed. May each life be as durable and full of strength as stately trees.

Nursing

The Fulfillment Of

Lifelong Dreams

Dedication

The interest you have in student nurses has made a lifetime impression on each of us who have had the privilege of working with you. In addition to your excellent teaching ability and Christian way; you inspire us to study vigorously. You will always be remembered for your complete understanding, and your true friendship.

Since you accept us for what we are and have given yourself so completely to our needs and future advancement and because we have a deep feeling of love and respect for you, we, the Student Nurses, dedicate our portion of the 1972 Whispering Hills to you, Doctor David E. Love.

Student Nurse Of The Year

There is a part of you that comes out when you are not aware of it; for instance, the sweet smile you have and the kind words you say. You are known for your leadership ability, your sense of humor, your dedication to your class and the nursing profession, and your eagerness to help others.

You have found a place in our hearts forever. We admire you and love you. For these reasons we underclassmen have chosen you, Susie Messick, as Student Nurse of the Year 1972.

Dedication

*Donald Carlton
Hunt, Jr.*

The bell has already rung and you are late to your English class. You slowly open the door hoping to sneak in without being noticed. Just as you approach your desk and think you've succeeded, you are greeted by a smiling face and a friendly voice; "YOU DEAR SWEET LITTLE CHERUB, BLESS YOUR POINTED LITTLE HEAD, WHY ARE YOU SO LATE?" You stutter and stammer, desperately trying to think of a suitable excuse as you listen to the tune of "Sweet birds in the Spring".

For his unique sense of humor, his dramatic literature stories, his endless hours of helpful guidance on the annual, his devotion, encouragement, and understanding, we the students of Fletcher Academy dedicate this year's annual to Mr. Donald C. Hunt, Jr. .

In Memoriam

Edith Parker Love

November 21, 1895-January 28, 1972

Since 1948 when the S. F. Love's moved to our campus, the life of Mrs. Edith Love has been a special golden thread running through our campus community, touching lives and leaving an unconscious blessing at its every turn. Whether mending a worn uniform for a student nurse, patching for a dormitory lad, cheering a homesick student or a discouraged fellow worker with some motherly love or advice, or just giving her warm, friendly smile in greeting, she made one feel her genuine love and concern. Her life was full to the brim with the joy of living. It was an inspiration to listen to her stories of the past and hopes for the future. This golden cord is broken, but cherished memories remain and our lives are better because her life touched ours.

Principal's Message

Dear Youth of Fletcher Academy:

I know of no better reason for your being here and for my being here than that given in the book EDUCATION p. 15: "To restore in man the image of his Maker, to bring him back to the perfection in which he was created, to promote the development of body, mind, and soul, that the devine purpose in his creation might be realized,-this was to be the work of redemption. This is the object of EDUCATION, the great object of life".

To accomplish this we must not " . . . seek to be wise apart from Wisdom; to be true while rejecting Truth; to seek illumination apart from Light; and existence without the Life; to turn from the Fountain of living waters, and hew out broken cisterns that can hold no water"--. All of this is worse than folly, which according to Webster, means a lack of good sense and foresight.

EDUCATION p. 83

We must heed the counsel of the Apostle Paul, as stated in Romans 12:2; "Be ye not conformed (similar or identical) to the world, but be ye TRANSFORMED (changed in character) by the renewing of your mind . . . "

May all of our energies be directed in this direction,

Sincerely yours,

Gordon L. Brown

A Student Association is the strongest and most influential student organization on a campus. Its members help to make the school what it is, and whether the school spirit is high or low depends on the students and faculty involved. Pastor's Message

Pastor's message

The great challenge to the youth of this generation is found in the Bible. Matthew 28:20. "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel" (make disciples or Christians); "And, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

This challenge is given to every Christian. The eternal destiny of each one is determined by the way he relates himself to the commission Jesus gave. The future is untried but it is filled with great possibilities. Christ's presence is assured at each step of the way. Regardless of what happens to you in life, the difficulties or problems that confront you, the situations that develop, or wherever or whatever your lot may be, God has made full provision to meet every need.

With the assurance of His presence with you in this world, you can enjoy fellowship with Christ each day of life, and look forward to endless fellowship with Him in the earth made new.

Principal's Message

Dear Youth:

In this age, as in every age, moral pollution abounds. This is an age when the virtue of purity is not highly esteemed by many: an age when sin is still as infatuating and alluring with a costly price attached to it.

"Sin, however small it may be esteemed, can be indulged in only at the peril of infinite loss. What we do not overcome, will overcome us and work out our destruction."

STEPS TO CHRIST, pages 32, 33.

Paul, writing to the young man Timothy, said, "Keep thyself pure." I Timothy 5:22. "Those who would not fall a prey to Satan's devices must guard well the avenues of the soul; they must avoid reading seeing, or hearing that which will suggest impure thoughts."

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES, page 518.

Only through the Sinless One can we rise above the pollution of this world and have a "pure heart". Only then shall we "see God".

U.S. CONGRESSMAN ROY A. TAYLOR HONORS LT. COL. A. C. BUTLER

BUTLER MEMORIAL

On Veterans Day when the nation honored its fallen heroes, Fletcher Academy celebrated the event by honoring former Academy student Lt. Col. A. C. Butler, who was killed in action in Vietnam in 1969.

Central figure in the memorial service was North Carolina Congressman Roy Taylor, who dedicated a plaque to Col. Butler's memory. He also presented a United States flag that had flown over the White House to Col. Butler's widow, Mrs. Rhoda Butler, of Jackson, Mississippi. In his speech, Congressman Taylor referred to the military career of Col. Butler and how he had been awarded some of the nation's most distinguished medals which include the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star, the Air Medal and the Army Commendation Medal.

Also participating in the ceremony were Tom Mallonee, assistant to Congressman Taylor, Jack Williams, institutional president, D. G. Anderson, hospital chaplain, L. E. Nestell, former academy principal, and Paul Witt, director of public relations.

In attendance besides the family were friends, faculty and former associates of the family. The family included the mother, Mrs. R. E. Samuels of Jackson, Mississippi, Col. Butler's wife, and his two sons Keith and Ashley; a brother J. D. Butler and his wife; a sister Lola Butler and her husband, Dr. Alvin Bales of Mansfield, Ohio.

The ceremony was followed by a dinner reception for the family in the hospital dining room. The evening prior to the ceremony a similar reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koch of Oak Forest. Mrs. Koch was a nursing class mate of Mrs. Bales here in our nursing school.

PLAQUE DEDICATION BY Hon. Roy Taylor

As your representative in Congress I consider it a distinct honor to join with friends, family and former faculty associates of Colonel Butler in paying him this tribute. In doing so I am also mindful of the good will shown by his family in establishing a living and continuing memorial in this hospital that has served the people of this area with such compassion and devotion. Your generosity will enable the dedicated staff and personnel of this institution to serve humanity with increased effectiveness. I feel that this memorial is one that would have met with Colonel Butler's approval, and you are to be commended.

Actually we can add but little to the honors accorded to this distinguished soldier both while he was living and posthumously. For he has been awarded some of his nation's highest honors.

Recognizing his ability as a battalion commander many of this nation's leading personalities sought him out at his battle station in South Vietnam. These included such men as Secretary McNamara, Walter Cronkite, Joey Bishop, and our fellow Carolinian the Reverend Billy Graham.

I think it appropriate that we too recognize Col. Butler's ability, his devotion, and finally his supreme sacrifice for his country, for his fellow man, and for the principles of freedom that he held dear. It is to this end that we dedicate this simple plaque as a perpetual memorial to a brave man and a soldier of distinction—Col. A. C. Butler.
