The Bell Tower

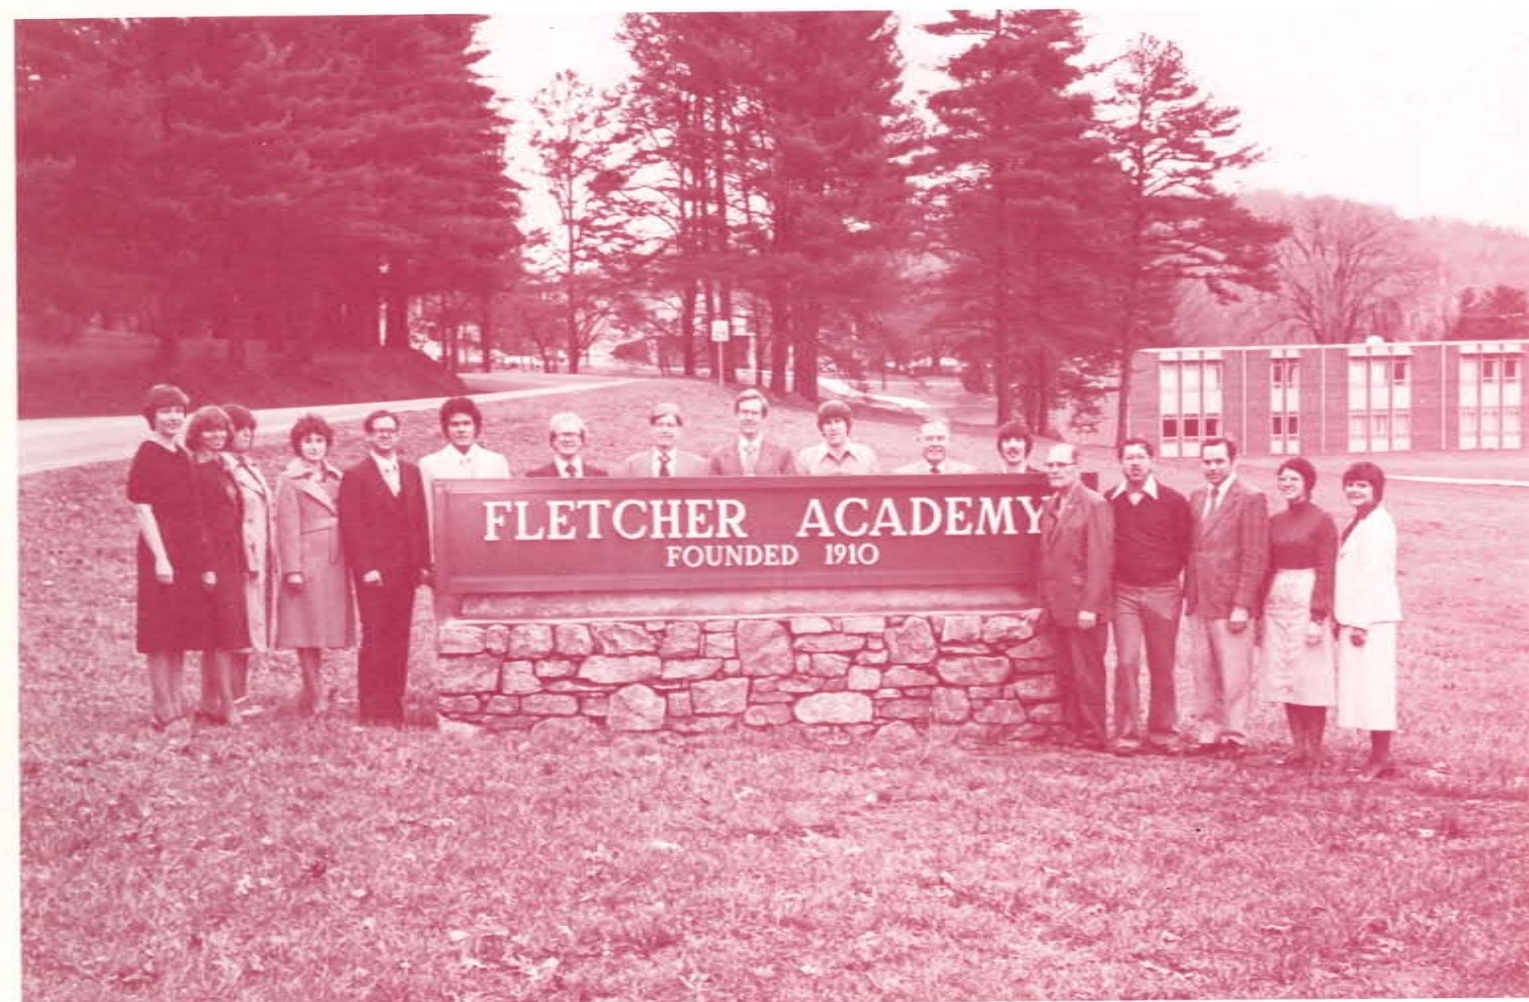

The Bell Tower is a landmark that all Fletcher students will recognize. What a story we would hear if it could talk! Tales of laughter and tears, heartbreak and fears, that have transpired through the years, would all be there. Tales of Fletcher as it was, and is now. Tales of change, of progress, and of growth. As you turn these pages, may you recall with pleasant memories this year at Fletcher

Principal's Message

Jesse Cone, MA
Principal

Conversation is an extremely interesting means of communication. Have you ever sat quietly in the dorm, on the bus, in a group and spent the time analyzing things revealed in the conversation of others.

In most cases it doesn't take long until we know many of the interests of those people taking part. In fact, as we respond one to another, we often find our conversation coming back to particular topics which are of greatest interest to ourselves. As we analyze this fact in light of eternity, I wonder how many of the things which occupy great amounts of our conversational intercourse will burn when the earth burns with the brightness of His coming.

To a great extent it seems that the direction of our lives is revealed in our conversation. We converse and express to others those things which occupy our mind. As I think about this, I must question myself. Does my conversation reveal a love for my Saviour, a desire to do His will and a desire to make His name known in the world?

I think of the section in the book, Steps to Christ, which states:

Who has the heart. With whom are our thoughts? Of whom do we love to converse? Who has our warmest affections and our best energies? If we are Christ's, our thoughts are with Him, and our sweetest thoughts are of Him. All we have and are is consecrated to Him. We long to bear His image, breathe His spirit, do His will, and please Him in all things.

It is our true desire here that as you have attended Fletcher that you might have become more deeply committed disciples of our Saviour, Jesus Christ, and I sincerely hope that whether you are a senior finishing your course work here, whether you are an underclassman planning to come back or planning to go somewhere else, that your conversation will clearly reveal that the Holy Spirit dwells within you and to whom you have dedicated your life. May the revelation be the living Spirit of Christ dwelling within.

Youth Pastor's Message

"For the Lord your God has blessed you in all the work of your hands; He knows your going through this great wilderness; these forty years the Lord your God has been with you; you have lacked nothing" (Deut. 2:7)

When it comes to the end, what Israel could remember was that through all the hardships of the wilderness God had been with them. They had gone without, yet they had lacked nothing. The demands and difficulties they met served only to teach them so they could see for themselves what they were really like, what their weaknesses were, and if they would accept the help of the God who is always there. There was no question, God had been with them. He had blessed them.

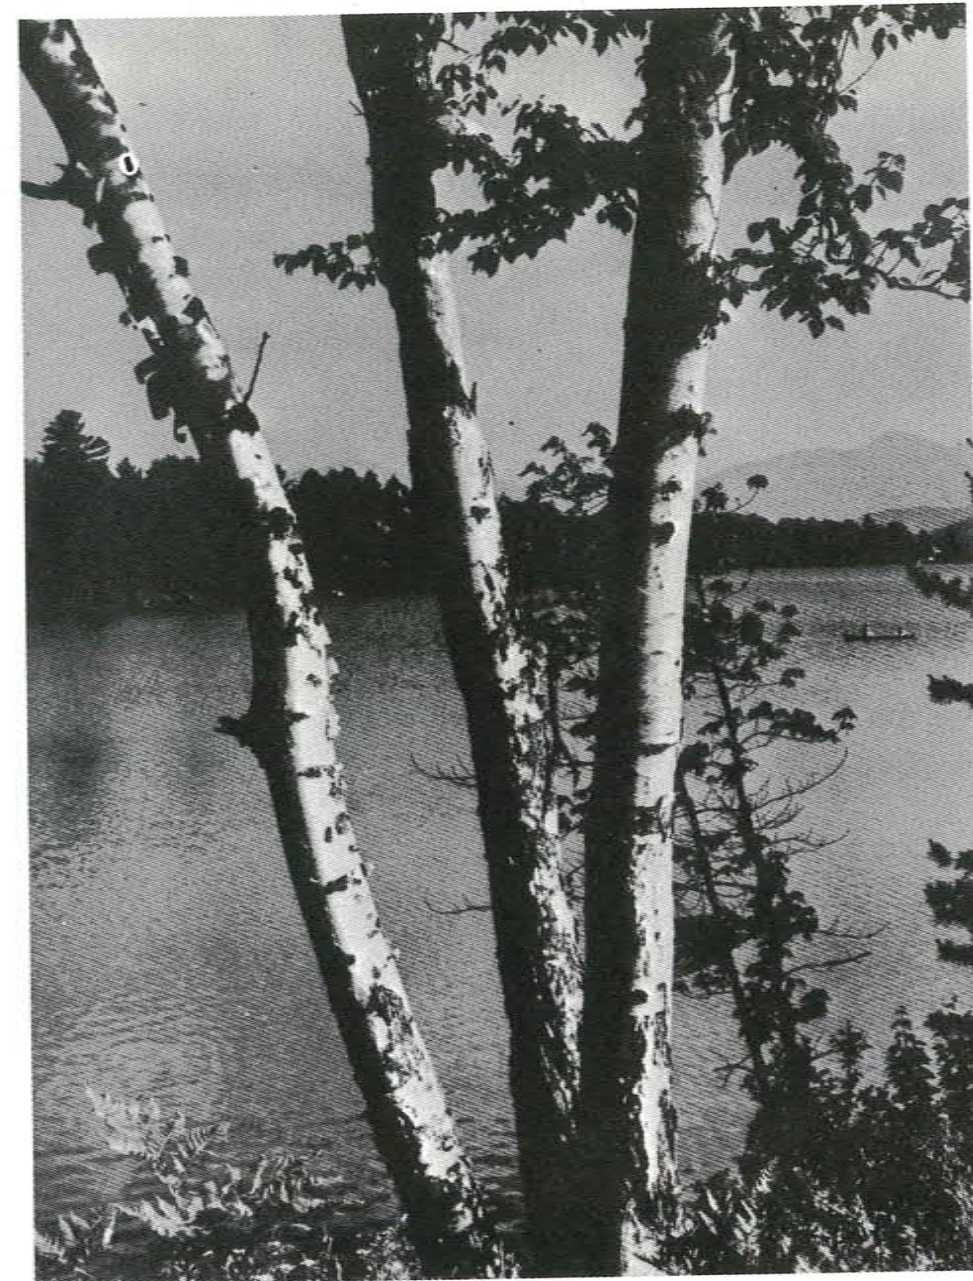

Has God been with you this past year? In all your impossible situations has He been speaking to you? In all your overwhelming troubles, have you heard His voice? In all the helps, the happy times, the plenty, the opportunities, have you sensed His kindness, His great love? Have you let His plans for you succeed? Have you let Him supply all your lack?

My hope for you is that during this past year at Fletcher Academy you have experienced that God has been with you - and that if you haven't, you might recognize it even now, and now let Him begin fulfilling His good and gracious purpose for you.

"Lay to heart all the words which I enjoin upon you this day . . . For it is no trifle for you, but it is your life, and thereby you shall live long in the land which you are going over the Jordan to possess" (Deut. 32:46,47)

Our School Song

Down in the southern mountains, where the French Broad flows, in the hills of North Ca--ro--lins, Where the Lau-----rel grows, Ther's a school where lads and lass--ies come from far and near; Ther's a school of closest friendship that we all hold dear. School of the mountains, School of standards high, I-----deals and courage Faith and lo--yal--ty. School of the moun--tains School of standards high, FLETCHER! our School!

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It consists of six systems of music. Each system has a vocal line on a treble clef staff and a piano accompaniment on a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has one flat (B-flat) and the time signature is 4/4. The lyrics are printed below the vocal line.

Pastor's Message

From its inception the Seventh-day Adventist Church embraced and proclaimed the doctrine of Christ's second coming. Whether it faced adversity or prosperity, whether it received ridicule or praise, whether it experienced decline or growth, made no difference. The doctrine of the second advent of Christ was, and it continues to be, the blessed hope of the church.

Today, we recognize that many Christians no longer affirm this New Testament teaching, and they are inclined to speak contemptuously of those who do. In the face of such scorn you might be tempted to compromise or even abandon your faith altogether. That would truly be a tragedy! Those who turn their backs on the truth experience little peace and satisfaction, for they know that they no longer have a future bright with promise. How much better it would be to stand firm for the truth, to resist the ridicule of secular Christians, and to ride out the storm of opposition without faltering and without fear! Should this be your desire, you will want to examine yourself now and determine whether the second advent of Christ is the blessed hope by which you live, or a doctrine which you agree to but which has little impact on your life.

If you embrace the second advent of Christ as the blessed hope, then you will doubtless plan and prepare for that event. You will center your affections on heaven or on the new earth rather than on the things of this world. Of course, we recognize that we still must earn a living, and that education holds the key to meaningful employment. But there is one major difference between the Adventist and the secularist: the Adventist sees money as a means toward the end of planning and preparing for the future and not as an end in itself. Therefore his goal is to use money to prepare for the coming kingdom of Christ and not to save money in order to be wealthy. The secularist thinks of self-advancement and pleasure in this life. When he does spend money, he usually spends it on material things, or invests it in order to increase his wealth. He has no concern to advance the gospel or to liberate, through the proclamation of God's Word, hundreds of thousands of persons in bondage to sin.

The blessed hope of the church, then has purging properties. If we allow it to burn within our hearts, we will experience the purifying power of the Holy Spirit as He endeavors to prepare us for the coming of Christ. May the Spirit of God illumine your understanding of the importance of this doctrine, purify your motives and aspirations, and strengthen your commitment to the church.

Joseph J. Battistone

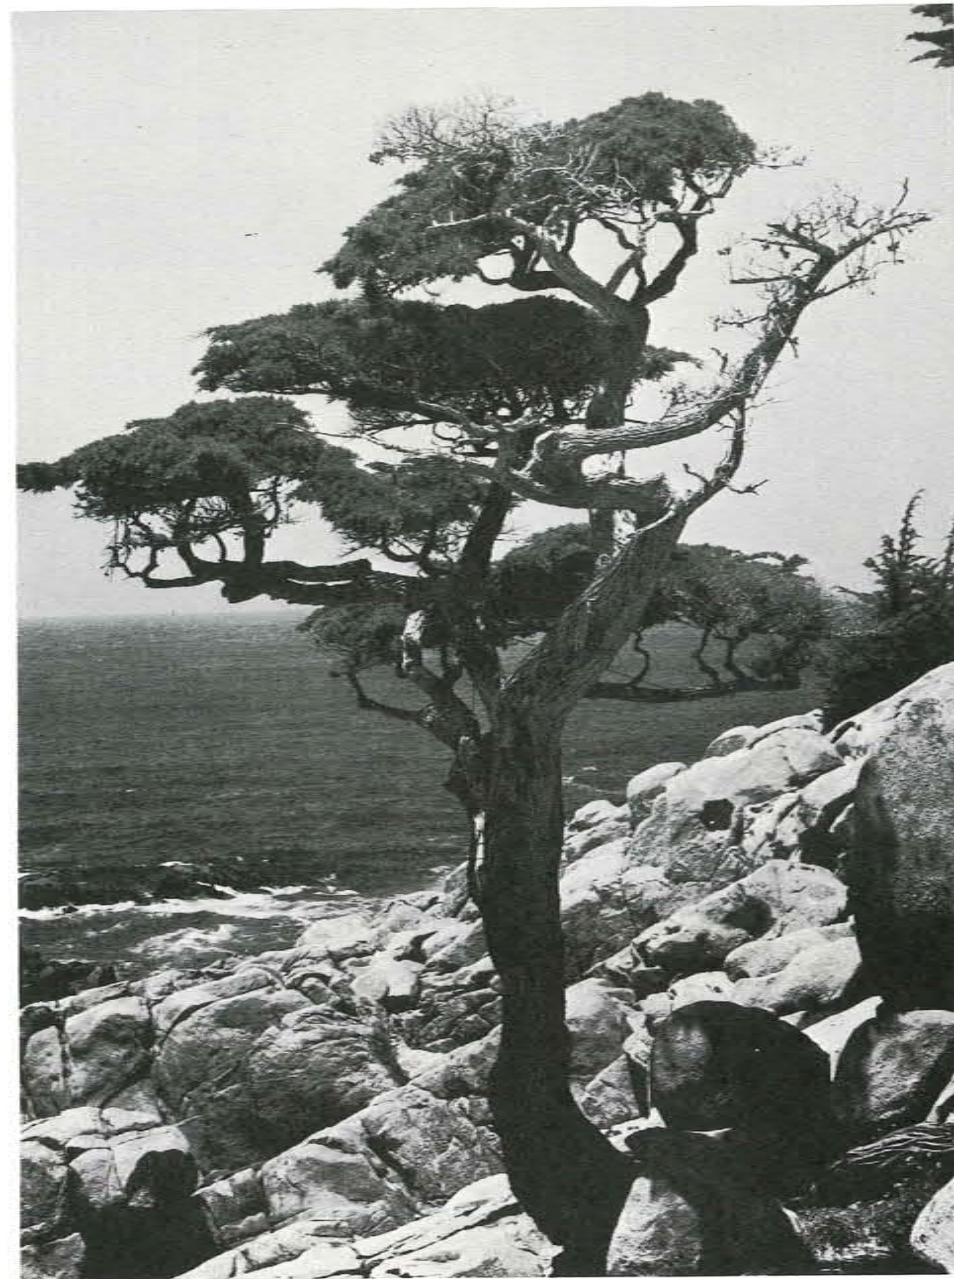

Dedication

Fletcher Academy students are no different from other academy students in that they have problems to be solved. These problems range from class schedules to gum chewing, from girlfriend - boyfriend, to an opportunity to just talk. Your willingness to advise, guide, smoothe the way or just listen is greatly appreciated. Therefore we wish to dedicate the Academy section of the 1979 Whispering Hills to you; Mrs. Janet Novak.

"To restore in man the image of his Maker, to bring him back to perfection in which he was created, to promote the development of body, mind and soul."

Education p. 15,16.

Principal's Message

Dear Students and Parents:

The youth of today are living in an age that is filled with a bewildering compilation of knowledge and technology. They are thrust in an uncertain world full of violence, permissiveness, depravity, and sin. There is an age of inconsistency and hypocrisy; an age of many distracting voices calling them to the enchanted ground of the enemy. The book EDUCATION says:

"Never was any previous generation called to meet issues so momentous; never before were young men and women confronted by perils so great as confront them today."
p. 169

This, also, is an age when christian education must meet its greatest challenge. We have taught our students how to prepare for examinations and earn diplomas. They can do complicated math, memorize Bible texts, and recite denominational history. We have prided ourselves for having produced scholars, leaders, and good citizens for this world. But if we have failed to develop characters after the life of Christ and to have an experience with Him that transcends the ambitions of this world we have failed in our most important goal. We are admonished to not blunder in our most important work, that of molding the characters for time and for eternity. Ed. p. 170.

This is a work that must not be left only to the school. If this be our philosophy then our task will be in vain. It must take the whole-hearted interest and consecrated energy of every parent, teacher, church member and youth. God has given us a solemn obligation. Will we accept this challenge?

President's Message

Herbert Coolidge, PhD

"I'm happy today, I'm happy today" is the start of a chorus that all of you have sung at one time or another. It has within it the key to living, a life filled to the brim with joys and successes. Being happy today is more than an effort to psyche ourselves into some euphoric state. It is the only way to get around the ups and downs that life brings to each of us. Each word is so important. First is the I. You are the one who determines how you feel and how you look at the events around you. Happiness does not come from things, or your environment; it comes from you. Today, the only day you have, is where you must live. Not in the past, not in the future, just today. With Jesus Christ you can be happy today; I am, and I so much hope you are also.

Repair Service

Thank You,
Henderson County,
for Making Us

NO. 1

How Did We Do It?

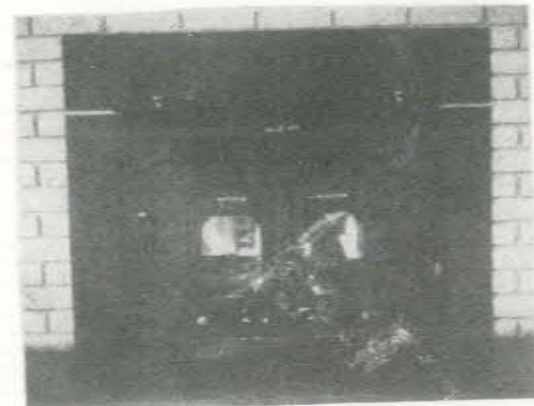

- Permanence we have demonstrated in this community.
- Honesty ● Dependability ● Reliability
- Full Installation and Dependable Service; General Fireplace Maintenance, including Chimney Sweeping.

● The Features of The Buck Stove

- Superior Esthetic Features
- Super-Quiet 5 Watt Blower
(Uses less than $3.00 worth of electricity in 1 year, running 24 hours a day.)
- Heavier sealed Warp-proof Doors.
- Many other features too numerous to mention.

See our new VICOR GLASS DOORS, the finest quality stove glass in the world. Most glass will not allow heat penetration. Vicor Glass allows 20% more heat penetration than steel, which increases the heat to your home.

Because of our heat extraction system, including not only the side and back surfaces, but also the bottom, a most important surface, the Buck Stove produces the most efficient and greatest amount of heat.

See the "write up" about us in the October issue of "Popular Science Magazine." They're enthused about our product.
