The Izod (alligator) is a sign of the finest quality. Like time, the style will pass away. As memories, they will return. We hope that this 1981-1982 annual will bring back memories of your year spent here at Fletcher Academy.

Our Dedication

Mr. Donald C. Hunt

As the annual work goes on and on, there is always someone standing in the background; unidentified and working away. The many years of hard steady labor have shown through in the work that you do. And now when those years of work are about to end, we want to say Thank You Mr. Hunt for pitching in!

Appreciation

This year instead of a certain individual appreciation we have decided that it would be most appropriate if the appreciation was made to all of the faculty, considering you have all made Fletcher a special place to us.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Congratulations to the class of 1982 for the achievements your graduation signifies. We thank you for the contributions you have made to the progress at Fletcher Academy.

To those who have not completed their academy career we present the challenge of a greater dedication to the cause of righteousness so that the qualities of true nobility may be seen in your life.

To each of the new faculty members and the students we express sincere appreciation for all they have done to make this an enjoyable year of many achievements.

We are grateful to the Board of Trustees, our pastors, and our constituency for so willingly supporting Fletcher Academy through another year.

May the accomplishments of this year find their full fruition not in the further acquirement of factual knowledge, but in the helping each student in his quest for happiness in this life and the blessings of life eternal. May divine guidance be ours as we all join in planning to reach the high goal the Master Teacher holds before us.

Craig S. Willis

Craig S. Willis

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Each year you spend in academy includes great achievements, moments of despair and days that disappear into grey fog. Some classes work well, some not so well - work can be great, or not so great, classmates can be with it, or not. All this and much more goes together to make a year at Fletcher Academy.

An outcome of education is that this process begins to make some sense. I believe that adding a Christian perspective to the process of education facilitates the whole endeavor. The understanding of your Life, your abilities, your potential, and yes, recognizing the parts that don't work so well, all enable you to fulfill the role that God has for you. The goal of this school is to aid you in defining that role and preparing to make it a success. I hope that each one of you during the 1981-82 school year have progressed in this quest. I want you to be the success that is possible with God's help.

Herbert Coolidge

Herbert Coolidge

You Are Unique!

When God made you, he made you unique. No one was made like you. That makes you special. Sometimes we try to be like someone else, but that was not God's intention. To be excited about life and to appreciate ourselves as God made us is very important. In fact the sum total of what we get out of life will be in direct proportion to how we esteem the worth of ourself.

It is conceded by most of the world's connoisseur's of great music that Walter Toscanini was the all time best orchestra director. Toscanini's son was recently asked what he deemed his father's most distinguished achievement. He replied, "For him there could be no such thing. Whatever he was doing at the moment was the biggest thing in his life, whether it was tackling a symphony or peeling an orange."

Such a person knows how to live each moment given him. How about you? Are you bored most of the time?

Being bored is usually the fault of no one but yourself. The person who is easily bored is generally unimaginative, narrow minded, and selfishly expects others to entertain him.

Broaden your world. Make more friends. Enjoy the stars, the clouds, the birds, the trees, and a thousand other amazing phenomena in God's world. Learn to think and to meditate on the great themes of life.

Don't just sink into the crowd and be another little person who wastes his life away doing what everyone else is doing, or worse still, what they are not doing.

Shakespeare once said, "to be or not to be." Thoreau said, "most people choose not to be." How about you? Jesus said, "I came that they may have life . . . more abundantly. The clear mandate of life is to live every moment to the fullest. To do less is to cheat ourselves and others of the gift of a very unique creation — yourself.

Southern Missionary College

To all of the students back at Fletcher:

Just think, it won't be long until many of you will graduate! And, of course, you are all planning to do what most Adventists should do--go to S.M.C. Right!

Well, last year I had some serious doubts about the validity of a Christian college education. The expense can easily become overwhelming. Since I've been here, though, I have become convinced that it is well worth the cost. The thing that really changed my mind was realizing how many of my friends were here; friends not just in the class of '81, but friends I made in grade school and new friends I've made, too. That's something I'd never find anywhere else.

SMC is one of several excellent SDA colleges. A few of its outstanding characteristics are the recreational facilities, Saturday night occasions, and broad curriculum. What impresses me so much about SMC is that it is very similar to Fletcher in a lot of ways. The campus is nestled in mountains, the grounds are landscaped well and meticulously. The atmosphere really is one of Southern hospitality. I have found the students to be warm and friendly, and the faculty members to be genuinely interested in each student and his or her particular needs.

Maybe not all of you will attend SMC, but I believe many of you will. You will find that it is a most enjoyable and fulfilling educational opportunity. I hope each of you can experience it!
