WHISPERING HILLS

1997

Leaving Our Mark!

After twenty plus years of service to Fletcher Academy, it's time to say "Thank you," "Merci beaucoup," "Muchas gracias."

You have many talents--literary, linguistic, photographic, musical. And you have shared them all. Because of your dedication, hundreds of Fletcher Academy students and alumni know a little bit more about poetry and prose, English grammar and composition, French and Spanish. They remember your Looking Back slides and smile with satisfaction on years well done. They marvel at the years you've played violin for the Asheville Symphony Orchestra.

You have been a mentor, Mr. Yingling, so we dedicate the 1997 Whispering Hills to you.

Leaving Our Mark!
Everyday students at Fletcher Academy make their mark--on something or someone . . .

At Registration and Handshake, old friends and new acquaintances met to begin the 1997 school year. We had a great time meeting our new SA officers and competing in relay races. Everyone enjoyed the day!

"Don't take my picture!"

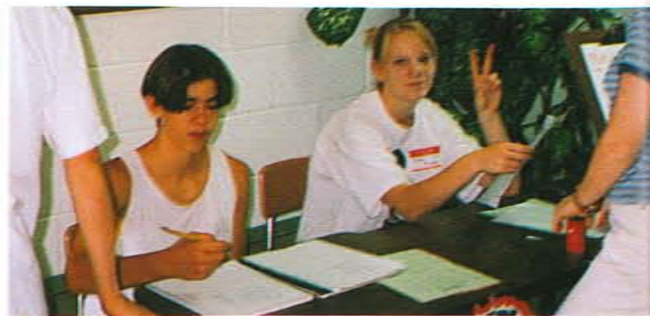

"I'll just take a nap before we get started."

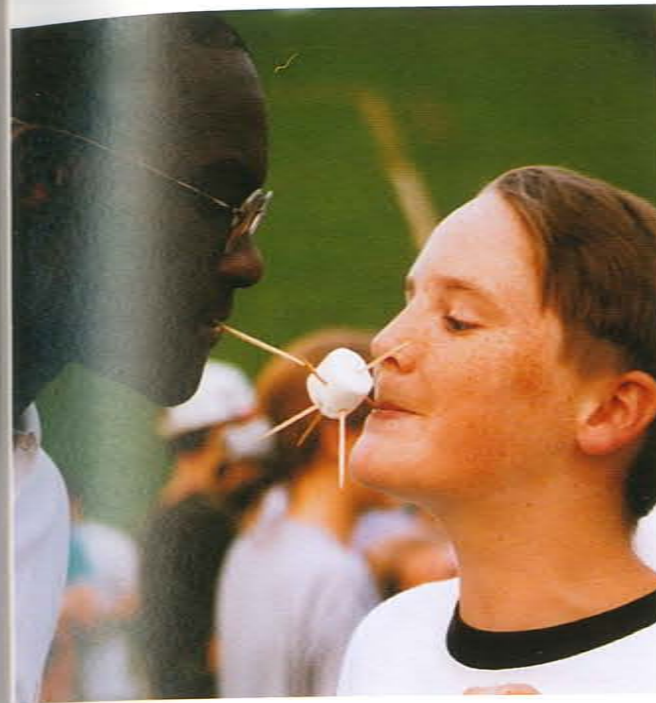

"Do you want this in English or Bermudian?"

"This is going to be a gooooood year!"

"I can sign up for this and this and this . . ."

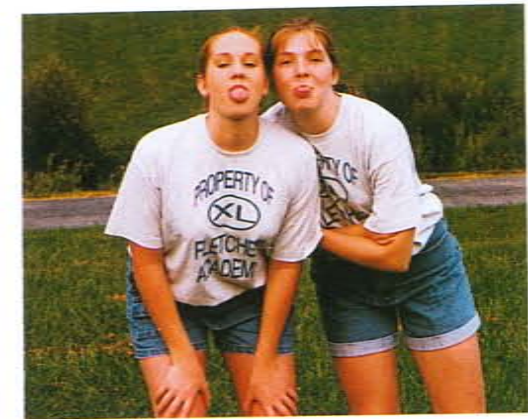

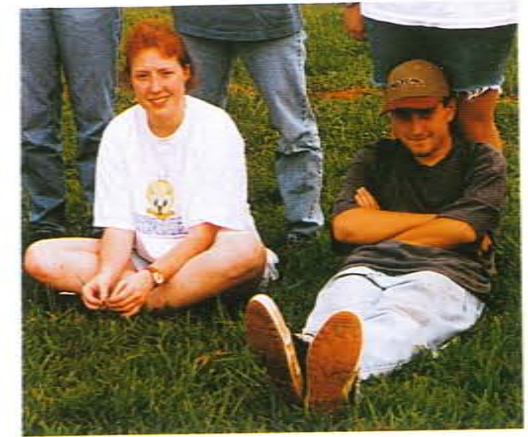

"I've almost got it. Just a little closer."

"Hang on for dear life!"

"Have you seen my muscles?"

"Nanna, nanna boo-boo!"

"Do you think my teeth match my hair?"

"Is he dead?!!"

Concentration is the way it's done.

"It's mine!"

"Oh, no. Not again!"

Muddy Kodak moment for Kyli, Jason, and Angela.

"This is a stick. You play drums with it."

"Long live King Apple!"

Roseanne Miles and Noah DeStefano jest with the crowds.

"Is my hair okay?"

For the fourth year, the Steel Band rode down Main Street on Labor Day. The only difference was the pouring rain. Everybody wanted to give up, but we must finish what we start. It was a new experience to build a float in the rain. At least we weren't stuffing Kleenex. We had a new material skirt. It would have been better to have had a waterproof apple, though.

"Help! I've got a hole in my head. Where did the worm go?"

"Doesn't this look exciting?"

Let the Games Begin! And they did Saturday night. SA members carried a 1996 Olympic torch around the track and finished by igniting a birdbath in the center of the field. The dashes, tug-of-war, discus, shotput, high-bar... and OH the flagball games! We fought to the bitter end of the day--even without sunscreen.

Jackie thunders over the high jump.

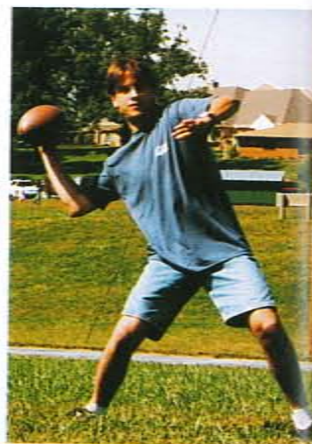

There are five junior guys. Who's the obvious extra? Go Elsie!

It's a close race between Christina and her Opponent, but Meredith wins the battle

Loree runs the field, football in hand, to her triumph.

"On your mark. Ready, set, go!"

Let it fly! Skip McCray

Here he comes ... Mr. America!
Jeremy Boulanger

"Did I miss the bar?" Becky Todd

Reggie Watson, Amber Lieggi, and Amy Ham play the most popular sport--spectating.

"I think I can. I think I can. I know I can."

For nine months (and sometimes twelve) every year, Nestell Hall is a home away from home for guys across the country. They come from South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Virginia, and New York to get an education. And while they're here, they experience dorm-life--showers, meals, laundry, homework, and even punishment. Just like home!

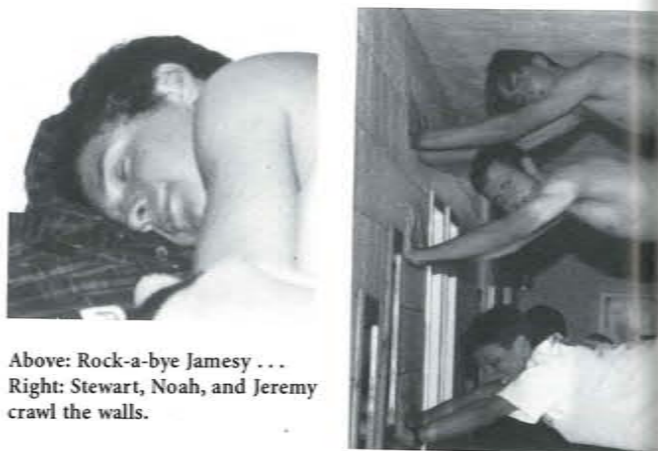

Reggie Watson--the RA, the Brain, the basketball fiend.

Oops! Sorry, Max. Next time we'll knock.

The girls' dormitory, like the guys' dormitory, is a place to call home for girls across the nation. They come from as far as Oklahoma and as near as South Carolina to do one thing. Talk on the phone! What would we ever do without it? It's our recreation. It's our homework. It's our life-blood. Thank you Alexander G. Bell!

Parents' Weekend began on Friday evening with vespers in the chapel. Through readings, testimonies and music, the Acro Knights shared their thoughts on love and Christianity. Saturday night was full of laughs--the Seniors presented themselves to parents, friends, and faculty.

After our party in the gym, we bundled up so we could go have hot cocoa by a blazing fire.

At the Harvest Party we all played games and ate snacks. We had a contest for best costume. Then we settled down to watch Toy Story. After the movie, we loaded up for a hayride. The hayride took us to a bonfire where we drank hot chocolate and visited with friends in the freezing weather. Thanks to the SA we had a great time!

The SA Christmas Party began with hot chocolate and Little Debbie's under a clear, star-filled sky. The choir, New Elision, sang merry tunes, and then the big moment arrived... the tree lighting. Without ceremony, Mr. K plugged in the lights. WOW! The evening continued with food, drink, dating and best friend games and ended with "The Snowball Express." We had a jolly ol' time.

"Aren't we cute?"

"Where should I put this one?"

Meredith, Natalie, and Jesse smile for the camera.

It wasn't a normal school day for the Juniors. Park Ridge Hospital needed victims. They turned to Fletcher Academy for help. The annual disaster drill involved local emergency units and the hospital. The goal was to test response time and rescue abilities. Thanks to a makeup artist and our junior class, the rescue teams and the hospital got a crowd of bus accident survivors with injuries ranging from open wounds to heart attacks. And the pregnant lady had a girl!

"I think a piece of my nose is missing."

"Don't I look gross?"

"Do you think I'll live?"

Above: Paramedics lift Danny into the ambulance. Left: She got legs... and she knows how to abuse them!

"Is he dead?"

"Ooooh! This is comfy. I like being strapped down."

"Is there something under there?"

"Can you hit the target?"

Student labor isn't just a form of paying off our bills. The academy functions because we work. We work in all areas of the corporation: Fletcher Park Inn, Fletcher Living Center, Park Ridge Hospital, Fletcher Laundry, the cafeteria, accounting, the ad building, grounds, greenhouse. And the list goes on. We keep Fletcher running. We're a big part of the whole!

Natasha heads for the dumpster. She's special . . . she's one of Jerry's kids!

Everyone roamed the halls, admiring the dorm and its Christmas decorations. We ended the evening with cookies, pretzels, chips, and punch in the recreation room. Ya'll come back now, ya hear!

The classroom. If we aren't sleeping, eating or working, we're in the classroom. It's a place to joke and yell, a place to annoy our teachers, a place to sleep. An sometimes it's a place to learn. From algebra to voice, from chemistry to acro sports we learn about the world and the people around us. We even learn about ourselves. Someday all this stuff about tangents and proofs, elements and moles, nouns and verbs, pitches and keys, constitutions and stocks will make sense. Then we can thank the teachers who kept on teaching when we were too sleepy or too stubborn to listen.

On Sunday November 3, we met in the assembly room. What for? School! Oh, no. Oh, yes. But a different kind of school then we are used to. The school of life. We divided into groups and headed out to serve the world. Some of us raked leaves, some cleaned gutters, and some--actually most--organized an Asheville community service warehouse. What did we learn? We learned that giving feels good, that life is hard for many people, that we have it pretty good . . . that being like Jesus is awesome!

Most of us took the bus downtown to ABCCM.

Natalie, Meredith, and Becky loaded the clothes baler with old, unuseable garments. It's a rubber gloves job!

The homeless shelter's food storage room was a disaster.

This year we went to Camp Wayfarer for Senior Survival. Among the many activities that kept us quite busy for the weekend were the Clausterphobic Supper, the Electric Fence, and the Trust Walk. Not only did we grow closer to God, we grew closer as friends. Needless to say, we had a blast!

Seniors

Senior Wills

Susan Armstrong: Andy G.--no more pain, freedom from faculty, two more years, and all my love forever. You're so cute! Want to go skiing? Misty A.--be good (Is that too much to ask?). Forget D. I'm always here for you. Are you hungry? Popeye--S! SC! Ha! Gotcha! Roseanne M.--my detective skills, no more broken bones. Love ya! Sarah B.--wealth. Good luck in everything. Mrs. Shafer--I love you.

Jeremy Boulanger: Abe D.--my place as "counselor". Misty A.--my floor work. Christina B.--my ability to be quiet! Mrs. Shafer--my wit and sense of humor. Mr. Bass--someone able to KEEP your office clean and your schedule straight. Ricci B.--my place as the only Boulanger on campus.

Jon Coon: Stephanie A.--a great Senior year. I'll miss you next year.

Kelly Dale: Stewart M.--someone else to protect C.W. and calm you down. Piglet--a new rubber ducky, someone to throw food and water at, and someone to harass Mr. Shafer with. Mr. Robertson--someone to wait on you hand and foot, and someone to laugh at your corny jokes no matter how lame they are. Mr. K.--Mrs. Potato Head, and someone else to embarrass you with compliments. Ricci B.--someone else to talk to and make you smile.

Noah DeStefano: Misty A.--Hope you find a man. Abe D.--Get your own clothes! To the Juniors--shnorts and shnifs. To the Freshmen--Grow up! To the Faculty--There's caffeine in chocolate, too.

Stacy Emanuel: Jason S.--a kiss (Maybe if you're lucky in your wildest dreams!). Love ya! Stephen Y.--someone else to "date" everyday in the library. Miss Cochran--another student in your class who is just as quiet as me! Baloo (Mr. Burnham)--another first chair flute player to complain about the brass section. I'll miss you! Stewart M.--(Sniff, sniff. Do you smell something? It smells like fish.) the ability to smell fish while pulling weeds. Good luck next year on the gym team without me. Cody S.--my ability to "be nice"!! Thank you for all of the love, support, and friendship you have given me this year. I'll miss you next year. I love you!

Amy Ham: Meridith M.--two more people to cheer you up as much as you have cheered-up Alisa and me this year. Thanks for always having a smile for me. Love ya! David N.--more people to flirt with and to give rides to in your Jeep. Stephen Y.--someone else to bug in the office. Abe D.--more people to call and bug when you should be working. Good Luck next year. Jason S.--someone else to sweet talk and write hundreds of warm fuzzies to. Here's the kiss I promised and you never got. Coach--another nose picker for your gym team.

Jessica Hance: Roseanne M.--strong, unbreakable bones and an awesome Junior year! Danylynn M.--another friend you can count on. Amber P.--great success in colporteur. Too-short--my height. James B.--all the jobs you've wanted. God bless you! Christina W.--my job and patience to go with it. Mr. Burnham--someone to distract choir. Mr. Youngberg--another friendship as close as ours. I'll miss you.

Amy Henion: Loree H.--courage and happiness to make the best of your academy life. God loves you! Roseanne M.--lot of smiles! Follow your dreams and keep God in your heart. Jamie R.--enjoyment in the science department grading papers and feeding snakes. Ron M.--God's love and a happy heart. Travis M.--great success in music. Sarah & Rachel B.--lots of friends and best wishes. Don't forget our canoe ride, Sarah!

Tricia Kinzer: Roseanne M.--I am going to miss you. Good luck, and don't be so hard on yourself. Meredith M.--another person to give you knowledge knots. Jamie R.--another annoying senior to tell you to "shut-up". Jackie J.--another "woman" to constantly bother you. Mr. Burnham--another drum player to talk in band and to annoy you.

Jon Leonard: David A.--a great senior year and the title "chump". Jackie J.--ability to "struggle". Tiny Tim--my height and a jumpshot. Tom B.--a goatee for life ("Tom, it's time!") and a great Senior year. Brandis S.--captain of the all-star team, peace out. Kathie D.--a cherry lollipop and money to buy it with. Too-short--height! Ryan J.--the title "Bones" and a car. Jenny M.--someone to pinch you. David N.--$1.25 and a great Junior year. Christina W.--someone who writes warm fuzzies back on time. Love ya. Natalie M.--someone to call you "Nat-lie" and a great Jr. and Sr. year. Love ya. Danny P.--my Reggie Miller, 3-point shooting accuracy and an awesome Senior year. You're the man! Mrs. Novak--another adopted son who eats all your food, bugs you about everything, and always wants to go to lunch at Acropolis. Thanks a lot! Mrs. Shafer--someone to bug you in the dorm and at home. Sara Y.--my wisdom and words and a great Jr. and Sr. year. Love ya.

Christina McMullan: Elsie M.--my professional basketball abilities. Andy G.--another dumplin' and gravy to pick on. Tim A.--someone who can treat you better than I did. You deserve better. Burnout--someone else to pick on. Meredith M.--my attitude. David N.--a person to tell you how gorgeous you are. Jackie J.--I will to you all my love.

Steven Milks: Bralley--my charm. Coach--a worker just like me. Sam S.--my skill and attitude. Melissa M.--my attitude. And find a good man! I'll miss you next year. Have a great time!

Jay Milline: Jesse J.--a bush hog hat and some water. David N.--someone to call you the finest man alive. Chantel S.--a friend who likes to do the ear thing. Tim A.--my height and basketball skills. Brandis S.--a jumpshot. Nichole S.--some more cute toenails. Angela K.--another birthday party and a raspberry lollipop. Mr. Krashingner--my driving ability. Jenny M.--"Howdy!" Sherry C.--my beautiful scagg.

Alisa Moore: Meredith M.--You've been a great friend! Rule the school next year, and don't forget to smile. David N.--my parking place in the student parking lot and someone to pick on you before classes everyday. Natalie M.--my awesome basing abilities in gymnastics. Have two great years left at Fletcher. I love ya, and I'll miss you when I go to college. Abe D.--someone to tell you to smile. Jason S.--many more girls to ask for KOD's.

Stacy Moss: Stewart M. (my brother who means the world to me)--I hope you do well in the years to come. I'm really proud of you, and please remember that I love you alot. Amy C.--Have a great year, and I hope to see you soon. I'll miss you.

Katy Roberts: Rachel T.--someone else to carry you around when you're tired. Christina B.--the ability to make up your mind. Ann H., Angela M., & Loree H.--someone else who can get you as mixed up and off-key as I can. Good Luck next year! Aunt Ginger--a quiet library. And thanks for being my "mom". Jennifer C.--perseverance for your next three years at Fletcher. You're a great cousin! Elizabeth T.--lots of patience. Remember, you deserve the best! Mr. Yingling--un viaje a Espana y alguien le gusta espanol tanto como yo. Danny P.--a ton of Disney movies to watch every Saturday night. Thanks for being such a great friend for as long as I can remember! To the Juniors--wonderful memories and Senior status. Have a great year next year. I'll miss you!

Kiyomi Sato: Kathie D.--I hope you can have a gold sink for your future home so you don't have to polish it. You're a great work partner and friend. Roseanne M.--Your smile always makes me happy. I hope you enjoy the rest of your school years. Alba N.--You are a very friendly girl. Thanks for talking to me.

Monica Tucker: Roseanne M.--someone else to rub your back. Keep your chin up! I'll miss ya! Stewart M. & Nathan S.--another "Little Senior" to pick on. Have a great three years at FA, "Little Freshmen". Misty A. & Rachel T.--another tutor as good as me! Ha! Maybe they can teach you another song! Natalie M.--Thanks for letting me live at your house. Don't let life get you down. Good luck!

Reggie Watson: Max M. & 2-Short--my superior basketball skills. Ricci B.--the ability to sing the Star-Spangled Banner over the intercom as well as I do. Tiny--my crazy shots and my position as math reader. Natalie M.--someone else to make fun of you.

Kristin Wolf: Kathie D.--my job bugging Steve at Homestead Farms and the patience to deal with Nancy. Mike S.--the ability to work well at Homestead. Stephanie A.--my happy moods (most of the time). Have a "SNAZZOVIAL" Senior year.

Holly Worthen: Mandy P.--a great Senior year. I'll miss you. Mr. Shafer--somebody to take my place in the cafeteria who works as well as I do. David A.--a better job and a great Senior year. Meredith M.--somebody to share long talks with. Tim A.--a great Junior and Senior year. Abe D.--somebody else to pick on.

Victor Zill: David N.--to rule the school. Don't bong out. Natalie M.--to grow shorter. Cool shoes!

SPORTS

Leaving Our Mark On The Field!

GIRLS' FLAGBALL

Even though the championship game was on the coldest night of fall, we all had fun participating in flagball. It was one of the most competitive sports of the year. The winning teams for the season were Coon and Tucker.

Left: "Now what's our plan?"
Below: "Ha! I've got it now!"

It's Cousin It!

"It's mine, all mine!"

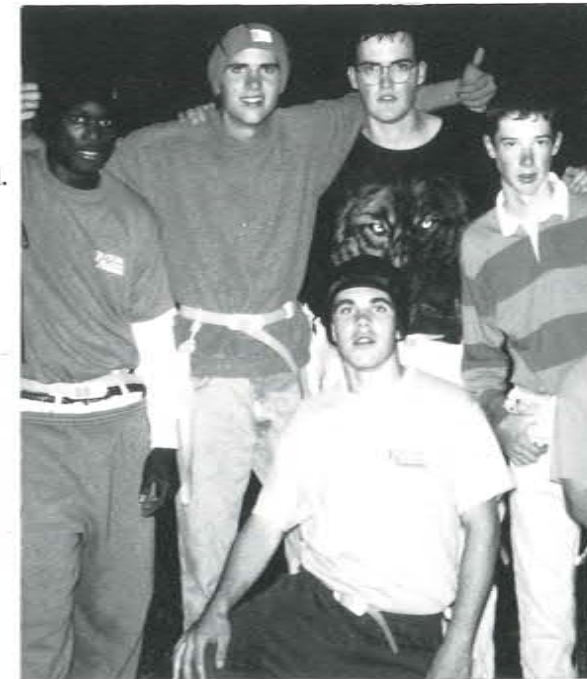

"Yeah, I'm good."

"Social!"

GUYS' FLAGBALL

Right: "Where's Waldo?"
Below: John grabs the ball.

"How long am I supposed to stay like this?"

"I'll get it."

"Wh... What do I do now?"

"So what do you want to do about it?"

"Do you like my manicure?"

"Hey! Watch where you grab!"

VOLLEYBALL

Bump, slam, spike! This sport requires not just individual skill but team spirit and cooperation. And we saw lots of that this season. Congrats to Team Gettys--Stacy Moss, Ryan Jones, Brandon Freck, Danny Pendleton, Coach and Brandy.

Left: Gwen prepares to bump with a double fist. Below: Miss Kristi delivers her famous missile-like serve.

Mr. Burnham, are you flying, dancing or spiking?

Victor assumes the bump position and waits for the ball to descend.

Stacy zeros in on the ball and waits, arms in position to bump.

BASKETBALL

Basketball can be a vicious sport. That's why we don't play coed. Well... actually the guys are just scared to play with the girls. This season the action was intense if you were a player and captivating if you were a spectator.

Right: Jay goes for a slam... and misses! Below: "I'm a happy scorekeeper!"

Right: Pass it, pass it! We want a basket!

Danny successfully slam-dunks!

Meredith: "Pretty please!?"
Alisa: "What do you think?"

"Mine, mine, mine!"

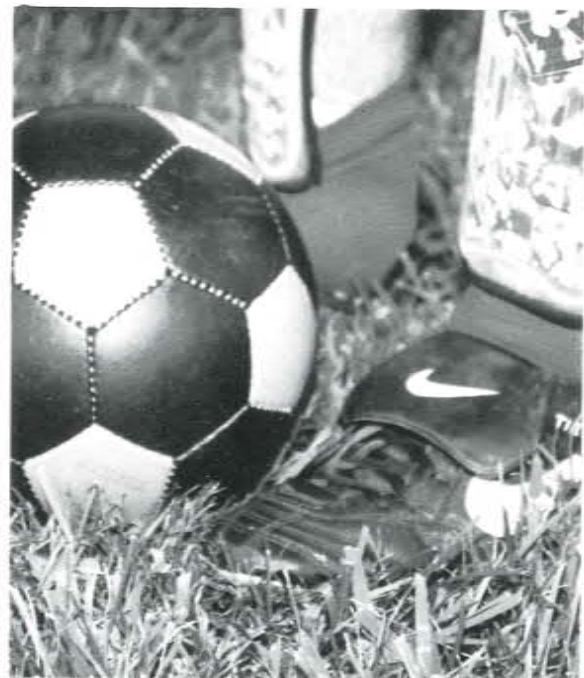

Kinue shoots a free-throw for a precious point.

SOCCER

Cleats, shin-guards, and an attitude--several prerequisites for European football. Soccer! It was fun watching guys growl and girls scream. Congratulations to Milks' team, soccer champions.

Below: "Where's my guitar?"

"Don't touch the ball!"

Dear Family,

The times we spend together are very dear to me. I love to hear you sing "White As Snow" and "Make Me A Sanctuary." I love to sit near you on blankets in grassy fields. I love to hear you laugh when Jackie cracks a joke. In the next few pages, you'll see some pictures of times we spent together this year. I can't wait 'til we're together forever.

Love,

Dad

"Wow! This is so interesting."

Week of Prayer gave us a chance to focus on why we're at Fletcher Academy: We love Jesus. Pastor Huffham told us interesting stories about what's real--fear, pain, depression. But Jesus conquers all those things. He's The Real Thing!

Everybody socializes with each other.

Mr. Huffham tries to concentrate.

We all gather around to make a fire.

"This is sooo boring!"

"I listen better when my eyes are closed."

We ended Week of Prayer with Sabbath in the Smokies. The weather was beautiful but chilly. It was exciting to be in nature and talk about the glories of God. We worshiped together in music, song, and word. Then we ate a lot of haystacks!

Cody and Stacy try to stay warm.

"Jackie, why do I always have to do what you say?"

"Great timing. Couldn't you of waited until I was done chewing?"

"What would you do for a banana?"

"Don't we look happy?"

Above above: "Don't fall asleep yet, there's still a few more meetings."

Above: "Oh, we're supposed to be singing?"

Snap! "Get that camera out of my face. I didn't put my make-up on today."

MON - SAT 9 - 5

Dear Monica,

"I can't believe I'm a senior!" Remember repeating those words at the beginning of this year? Now, can you believe you're graduating? We can! And we're proud of the lovely young lady you've become. We're proud of how you've handled your stresses, sorted issues down to their lowest denominator, thrown out the unusuable and then focused on the most important. As you continue in God's school of life, we know you will succeed.

We're glad God shares you with us, Monica. We're happy to call you daughter. Whatever your future holds, never forget that only with Christ can "life go on."

Love,

Mom and Dad

Dear Stacy,

You have come a long way these past twelve years of school and have overcome a lot of hurdles. And with the help of Jesus you will continue to succeed in the future. Congratulations to you and the whole senior class for your upcoming graduation. Stacy, I'm proud of you, and I love you very much.

Love, Mom

To Our Precious Amy Christine,

Congratulations to you for all you have accomplished! We are very, very proud of the lovely young woman you have become. God bless you as you plan for your future. Always keep Him in your heart.

Love to you,
Mom, Dad
and Loree

Dear Katy,

You are like a desert bloom
With a fragrance that fills the air
Fulfilling God's design for you,
Showing His love in all you do
And that for all you really care.
You are precious to us
and we really love you!

Grandpa and Granny

Dearest Editor,

We are so very proud of you. You are a joy to be around. You have provided so much love and laughter in our home. We are so thankful for you. We are also proud of you in your achievement in the accelerated course. God has truly blessed you and will continue to as long as you seek Him first. Now you are moving ahead into other aspects of your life. We will miss you so much. We know you'll take God with you and we know He will take care of you. Stay close to Him and He will never leave you. Keep your favorite verse ever before you, Psalms 37:4. Move ahead in God's service. He loves you.

We love you dearly,

Your Mother and Daddy

Hey Goober!

It's about time you flunked--ah--oh--I mean Graduate. I was beginning to wonder if you ever would. It's just totally amazing how well you've evolved over the years. You were born as a baby, then you became a brat, later you turned into a jerk, then into a twinkie, then you surprised everyone by becoming a nerd, and now you've made it to Goober!

Well, now all you have to do is get through College! Ha-Ha. Good luck! Don't worry, you'll breeze past it.

We are all proud of you and wish you all the best. Remember to "keep looking up." If all goes well, you will probably spend most of your college days in heaven. We should see Jesus coming within the next couple years! Keep studying and praying--stay close to Christ!

We will keep you in our prayers! Love ya!

Your Brother,

Knucklehead

& your new sister, L.B.

Congratulations Seniors

Park Ridge Hospital wishes the best to the students of Fletcher Academy. As some of you leave Fletcher we hope the words of Solomon will remain with you. "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths." Proverbs 3:6

My Darling Jessica,

Here you are--a Senior at last! Remember all the phone calls you made as a Freshman wanting to come back home? My how you've grown into a fine, mature, young woman over the past four years. I'm so proud of all your accomplishments!

Congratulations, my dear! It is my prayer that you follow your dream as you further your education in whatever field you choose.

Love ya tons,

Mom

Why You Should Go To College...

The world is a very cruel place when you are uneducated.

People with degrees can earn up to $1,000,000 more during their lifetime.

You will make interesting, intelligent friends who will be there for life.

Why You Should Choose Southwestern...

At a "commuter college" you could spend years finishing your degree. We will help you graduate quickly.

We have low tuition. You could spend up to $12,000 more at other colleges.

With our smaller student population, you will make real friends to study, laugh, and pray with.

We have warm, sunny days almost year-round.

We are just minutes from the Dallas/Fort Worth metroplex.

At Southwestern, we train you for life and eternity. That's why we're here.

My Precious Amy,

You and David have always been the light of my life. Only Jesus could love you more. Make Him your best friend. Spend time with Him each day and get to know Him. It is the most important thing you will ever do. I am proud of all the things you have accomplished over the past 12 years, but most of all I am proud of the person you have become. May you always let God lead.

All my love,

Mom

Dear Amy,

Words can't describe how thankful I am for what you have accomplished and the person you have become! I am thankful for your friends, teachers, and everyone influencing your life in a positive way and for the great times we have together. Stay the way you are as you trust in God, keep your vision of future goals, love others a little more and self a little less, and you will continue to be blessed!

Love,

Dad

Dear Amber,

We are so proud you're "gonna" finish this stage of your life. As you continue down the road of life always remember Jesus is a friend Who will never leave or forsake you.

He loves you and so do we.

Always stay the loving, giving person you have always been.

Love,
Your Whole Family

COMPANION ANIMALS

Thank you, Alisa, for being such a wonderful daughter. We will miss you and Monica singing for us on Friday nights when you go off to college next year. We wish you nothing but the best that this life and the next life has to offer. May God continue to richly bless you.

Love,

Mom and Dad
