a dedication to the dedicated

Message to Mrs. Novak

As one of the most dedicated staff members to ever work at Fletcher Academy, you have created a more positive atmosphere during your time here on campus. From administrative assistant to academy registrar, we thank you for 42 years of sharing both knowledge and laughter to all of the students, staff, and faculty over the years. We will miss you and your tremendous dedication to this school.

a few kind words...

"Mrs. Novak is the primary source of answers for all questions of what and when things should be done. Her buoyant spirit always brightened my day, even when things might not be going well." -Mr. Sigsworth

EVENTS

Out of Quarantine

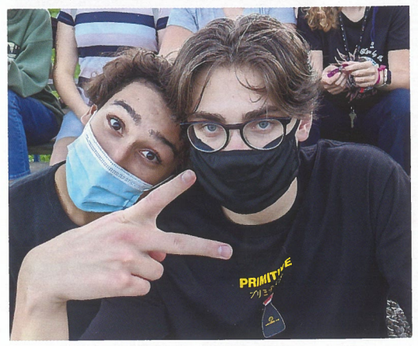

After 5 long months of being away, students finally began to arrive back on campus. Even though smiles were not visible because of masks, you could feel the excitement in the atmosphere as friends were reunited.

"I enjoyed this event because I got to do more activities with my class and see the upper classmen for the first time!"
-Venedys Vargas, freshman

"This event was pretty cool, I especially liked when SA came in and they lit up the hill."
- Ivan Wilkie, freshman

Handshake this year was definitely different than last year... but it was still super fun being able to catch up with old friends and get to know our new classmates! - Brooke Witt, sophomore

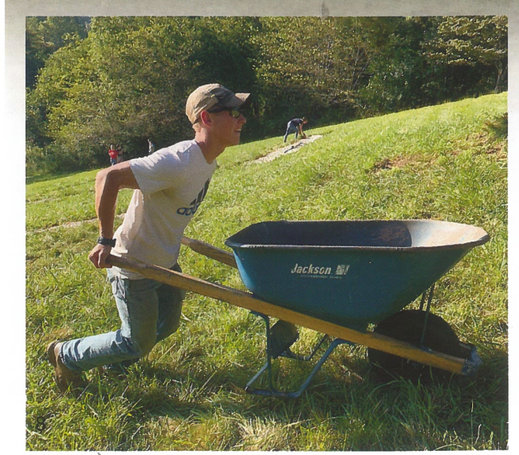

Student Association

The Student Association made their great entry riding Mr. Henski's convertible. After they all introduced themselves, William Holt, this year's SA pastor, lead out in worship.

on the hill

After coming back from a long quarantine, it was exciting to see everyone face to face instead of over a screen. Changing the number was not a hard task for a class the size of ours. We made hard work an enjoyable memory with friends and classmates. At the end of the day we celebrated by lighting the hill on fire for a joyous begin to a last year here at Fletcher Academy.

"Payton, Andy and I destroyed the sod cutter!!" - Willy Boy

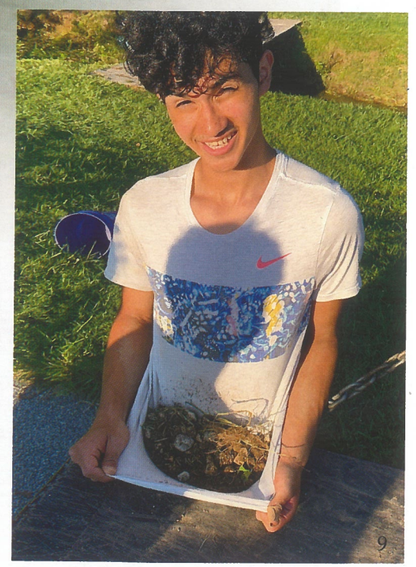

"It was really fun being able to put our number on the hill and seeing all my classmates that I hadn't seen since March."
-Brianna Pettit

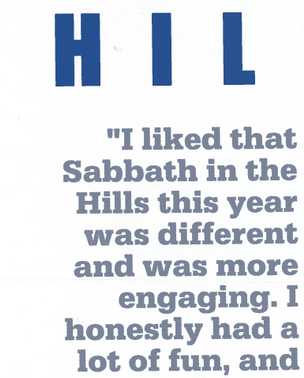

Sabbath in the HILLS

"I liked that Sabbath in the Hills this year was different and was more engaging. I honestly had a lot of fun, and got to interact with a lot of the freshmen I don't see on a day-to-day basis."

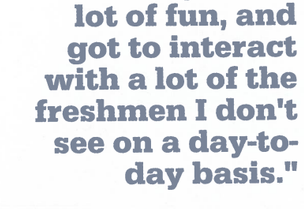

-Melanie Salas, senior

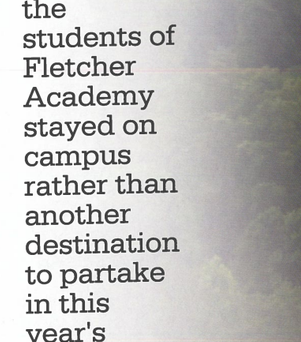

Breaking yearly tradition, the students of Fletcher Academy stayed on campus rather than another destination to partake in this year's Sabbath in the Hills.

New experiences created fond, new memories for students of all grades to look back on and reminisce.

MEMORIES from a new perspective

Sabbath in the Hills was a great experience, and we were able to learn about the Waldensian history. I realized how lucky I a to be able to talk about my belief freely and spread the word of God without fear that someone will harm me. The activity we did felt so real! We got to experience what it was like to have to run and protect our verses from the staff trying to chase us. It was scary, but so much fun!

-Venedys Vasquez, freshman

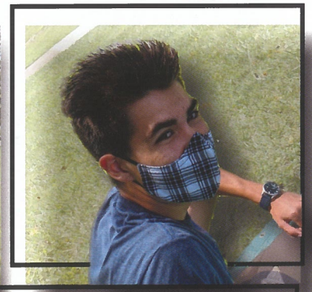

Escape into the Woods

Working as a team to escape the staff members in hot pursuit, students were able to challenge their instincts all the while building last-long friendships.

"It was fun working together as a team with fellow students to deliver the memory verses."
-Aidan W., sophomore

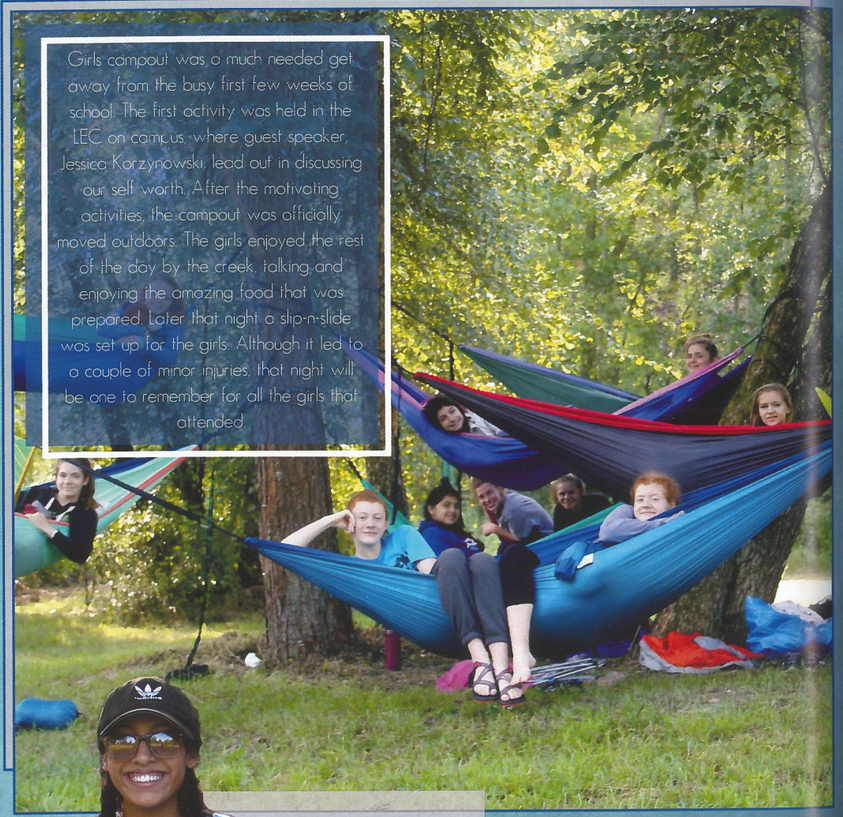

Memories are special moments that tell our story...

Girls Club Camp Out

"Girls Club campout was such a fun experience this year! Man hunt, making s'mores by the campfire, I enjoyed every minute of it especially the slip-and-slide."
~Clarice D.

Girls campout was a much needed get away from the busy first few weeks of school. The first activity was held in the LEC on campus where guest speaker Jessica Korzynowski, lead out in discussing our self worth. After the motivating activities, the campout was officially moved outdoors. The girls enjoyed the rest of the day by the creek, talking and enjoying the amazing food that was prepared. Later that night a slip-n-slide was set up for the girls. Although it led to a couple of minor injuries, that night will be one to remember for all the girls that attended.

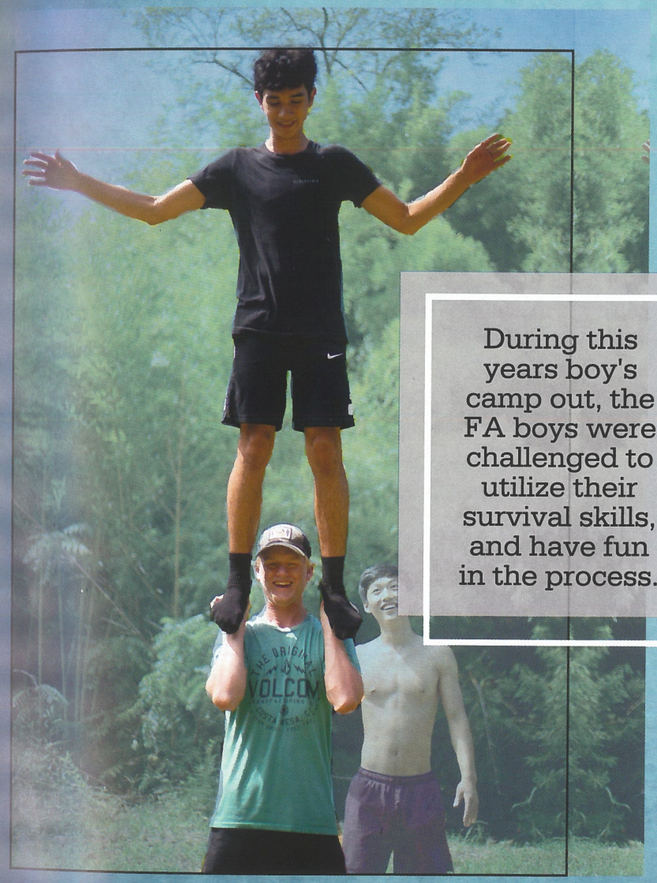

"Girl's Club Campout was a weekend to remember. I made lots of memories, and I ate a lot."
-Stacey L, senior

Boys Club Camp Out

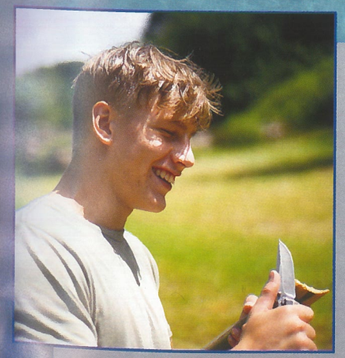

During this years boy's camp out, the FA boys were challenged to utilize their survival skills, and have fun in the process.

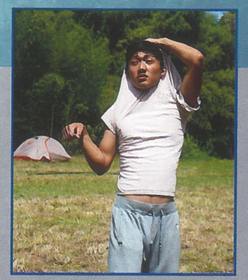

"Surviving in the wilderness for a weekend caused for some new memories to be made. I now know what I must do after a long lasting battle against an army of ants."
-Daniel Metz, senior

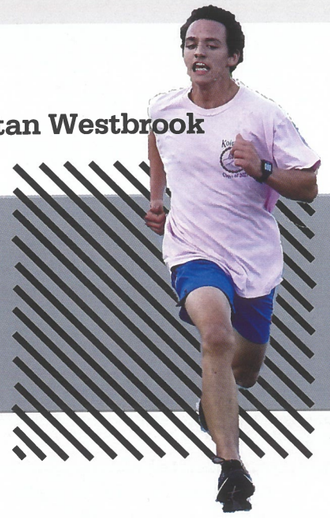

FALL picnic

Fall Picnic is a time for all classes to come together and participate in friendly, competitive events. From group volleyball and soccer games, to one-on-one running events, every class is given the chance to create new records and make new memories.

Work

Fletcher Academy not only prepares students academically, but it teaches students good work ethic thanks to the work-study program. Every student has a role and responsibility on campus, whether it is preparing meals or assisting the elderly.
The work-study program helps build student's responsibility, and prepares them for the future.

Chapel

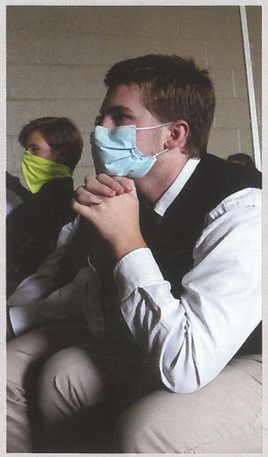

Chapel this year has been looking a little different than the previous years. Instead of meeting at the chapel, the students are divided into different locations across campus. The science, math, and history room, are all being used, as well as the café and both dorms. Thanks to Mr. Wilhelm, all students are able to enjoy watching chapel via live stream. Even though the student body may be physically distanced, the excitement for chapel still remains the same.

Mr. Wilhelm leading chapel

"I'm happy to go to a school that has the same beliefs that I believe. I like when we sing the school song and everyone is singing and laughing with each other. In chapel I get to hear what is going on in the school. I can always take something from chapel worship that helps me throughout the rest of the week."
-Angel Chaparro, junior

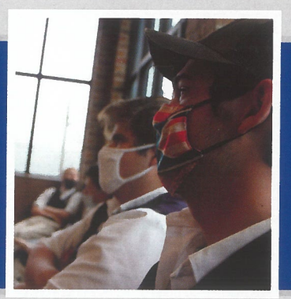

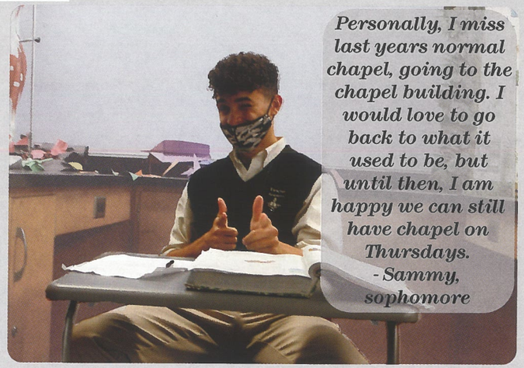

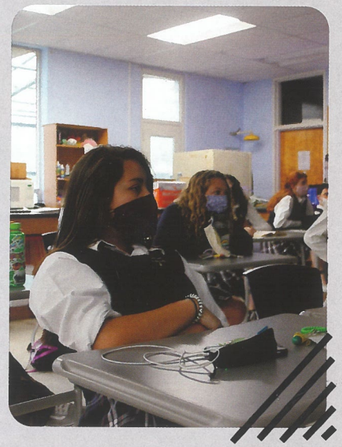

Personally, I miss last years normal chapel, going to the chapel building. I would love to go back to what it used to be, but until then, I am happy we can still have chapel on Thursdays.
- Sammy, sophomore

Mr. Wilhelm

"I get to sit down in my office where it's calm and peaceful. But it's difficult speaking to an audience consisting of Matthew Pakula. Chapel is streamed live and is online so everyone has a chance to see it. But we aren't getting to bond together as a student body. Overall, we are making the best of this difficult situation. Hopefully we can get back to the traditional chapel service."

Boys Club Banquet

It was a fun experience having it during the rain. Plus it was nice bonding with my friends -
Stacey Loza, Senior

Paintball

A really cool thing they did this year was have a paintball station. Derek, Metz, Charles, and a few others were targets. The goal was to see who could get the best shot on the targets. This proved to be a lot of fun.

Something that was unprecedented was that it began to rain. This was unfortunate, but despite this, everything worked out. All the stations worked perfectly. The rain did not seem to hinder the fun being had. Everyone adapted well and games were a lot of fun.

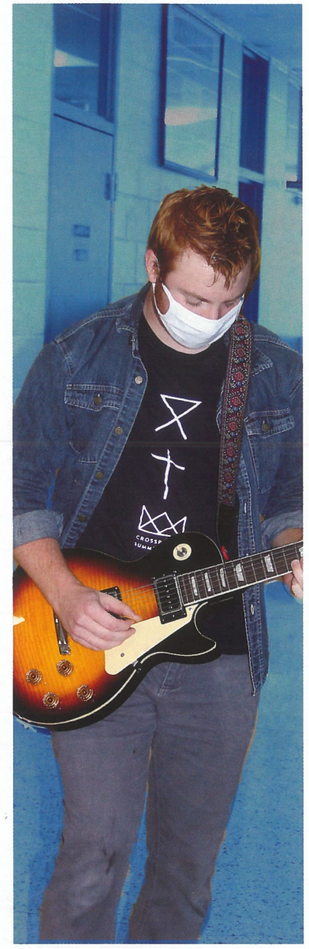

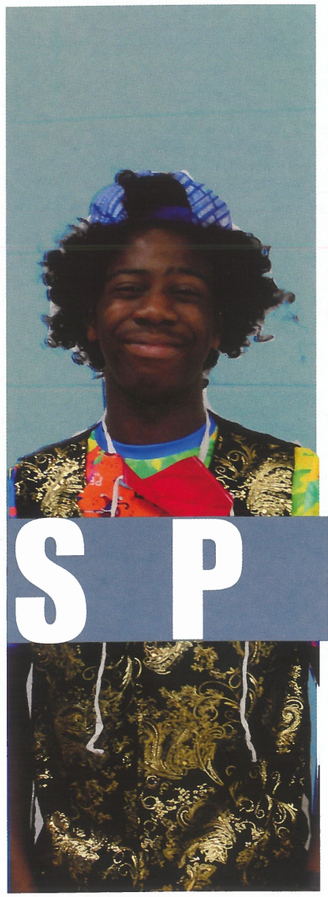

Boys Club Banquet this year was definitely one for the history books. In the era of Covid-19, events have been hard to plan. The Boys Club officers rose to the occasion and created a very fun and competitive banquet.

We went to the beach, hung out & on Sabbath went to church, they ate at my house then we went on a walk in downtown Charleston. After sunset we got boba tea and had pizza and watched a movie at their place. It was super fun to have people to hang with over home leave..

Home leave is that one short break where you forget about all the problems you have about school.

Nehemiah West

Home leave is a time for students to decompress and regenerate. For some, they may do fun trips like Puerto Rico, the Keys, or Miami. Others take that time to take the chance to work to get that bread. Overall everyone always looks forward to home leave.

Academics

From studying for tests teachers have assigned, to enjoying a good book in the library, academics covers a wide spectrum. Studying may take up a majority of a student's day, however many have found creative, effective ways to do so. Many different places can be found to stimulate the learning process, whether that be the library, the dorms, or even outside. Learning is an individual process, and ultimately it is up to you to determine how effective you will be.

"I love to study outside in nature. The fresh air clears my mind." -Esther Leon, senior

Where do you like to study?

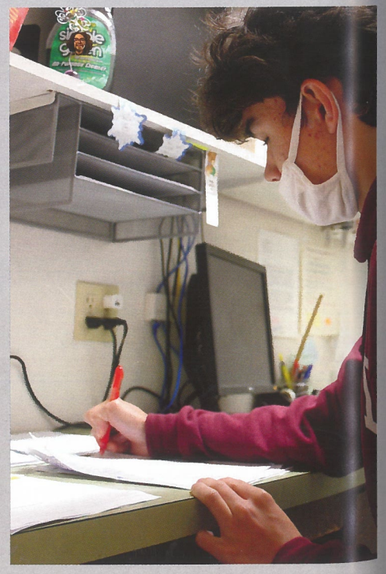

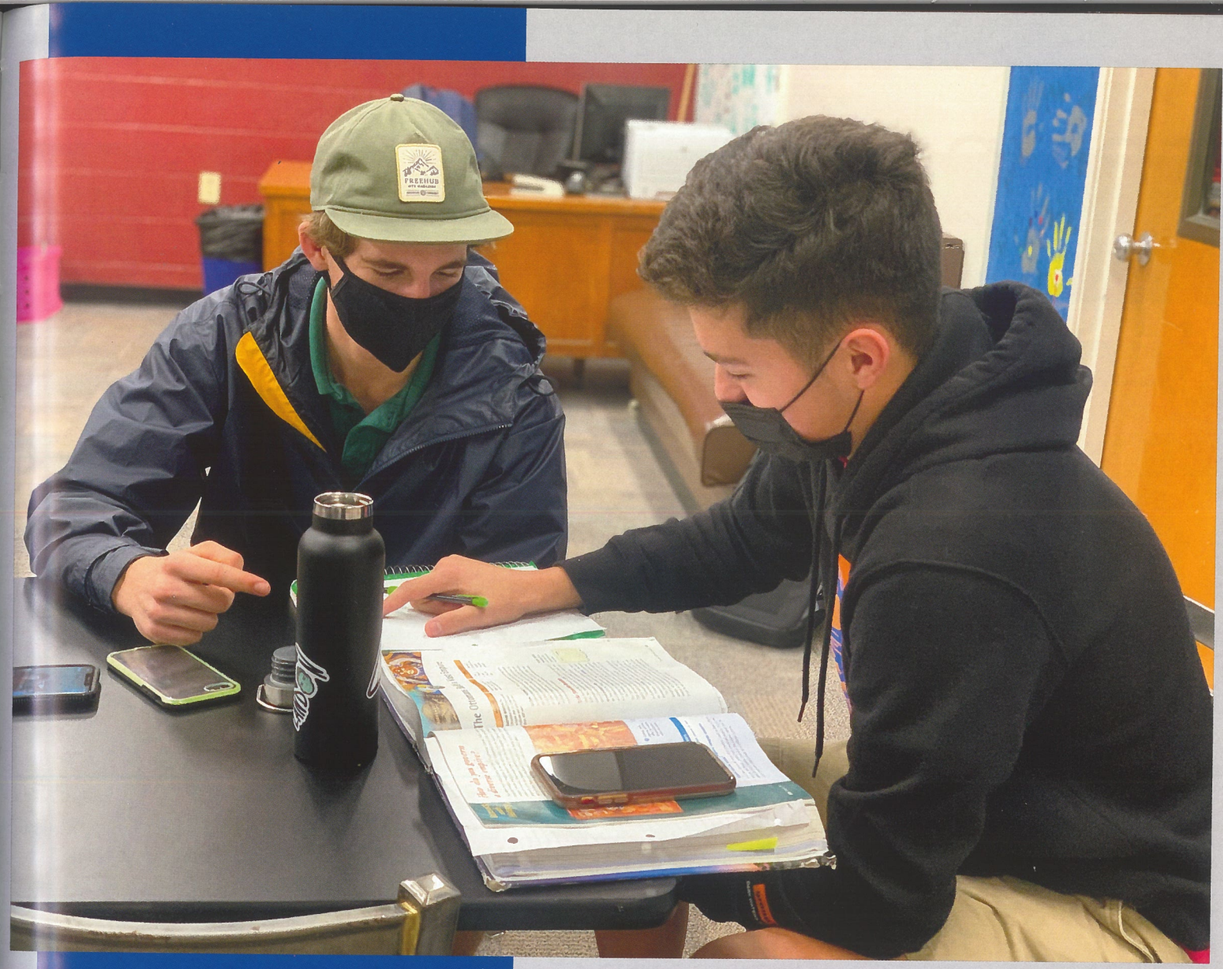

STUDY TIME

All around campus you can find students studying and working on homework, whether that be in the library or even at the cafeteria. All free time is a perfect opportunity to catch up and work ahead for the busy class schedules that await students.

Dorm Study

"Even though studying is definitely not my favorite thing to do, I always make time in the day to do it so that I will be prepared for my classes." Sarah, freshman

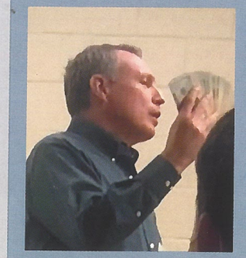

"I always use my evenings in the dorm as an opportunity to work on my homework. And when I have free time, I love to read!" -Elena Rizek, junior

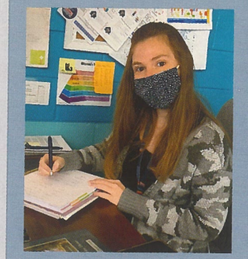

Pictured above is Dailen, freshman, studying in her dorm room. She quotes "When you are cramming for a 57 problem test for the nest day."

Teachers...

Teachers can get creative when it comes to academics. For example, Mr. Bass brought 2,000 dollars just for an illustration in the senior Bible class.

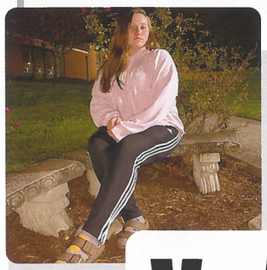

While other teachers choose to treat their students with kindness, Mrs. Stout uses different techniques to prepare her students for college, even at the expense of their happiness. jk haha - your favorite students ;)

Band it's not about the music its about having fun -Bubba

The FA Band is one among many of the music groups on campus. Unfortunately due to Covid-19, the band was unable to tour and perform, however that has not stopped them from creating melodious music together. You can always count on this group to have fun.

"We can always count on Mr. Cruz to give 110% to the band. He cares about the band as a whole, and it shows." -Alayna, senior

Paul Hindemit once said that music is meaningless noise unless it touches a receiving mind . Our Fletcher Academy strings group always plays with the intent to reach someone with the word of God, and as long as they continue to play for him, their music will never be meaningless noise.

Exaltation

Ding dong ding dong...There's a variety of options in the musical department and one of them is bells. The Exaltation Bells Choir dedicates their time to practice twice a week .They show the gifts God gave them through the musical pieces they perform.

Having to play many bells gave me a challenge. I'm glad for that challenge, even though the group is smaller. Slatt! - Samuel A, senior

"It's a relief from my day. I enjoy it a lot, it takes away my stress from the day.- Jason B

Our bells choir is like a family, because if anyone is missing it doesn't sound like it's supposed to.

The Deans

The Deans

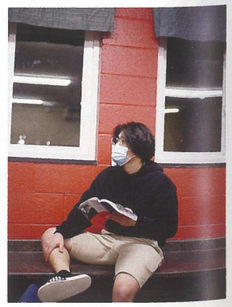

Pictured above are the beloved Dean Rahm and Dean Meadows. Teaching the boys of this campus how to be men is not at all easy, yet these deans make it seem so. Strength, courage, and honesty are values that are repeatedly encouraged in this dorm.

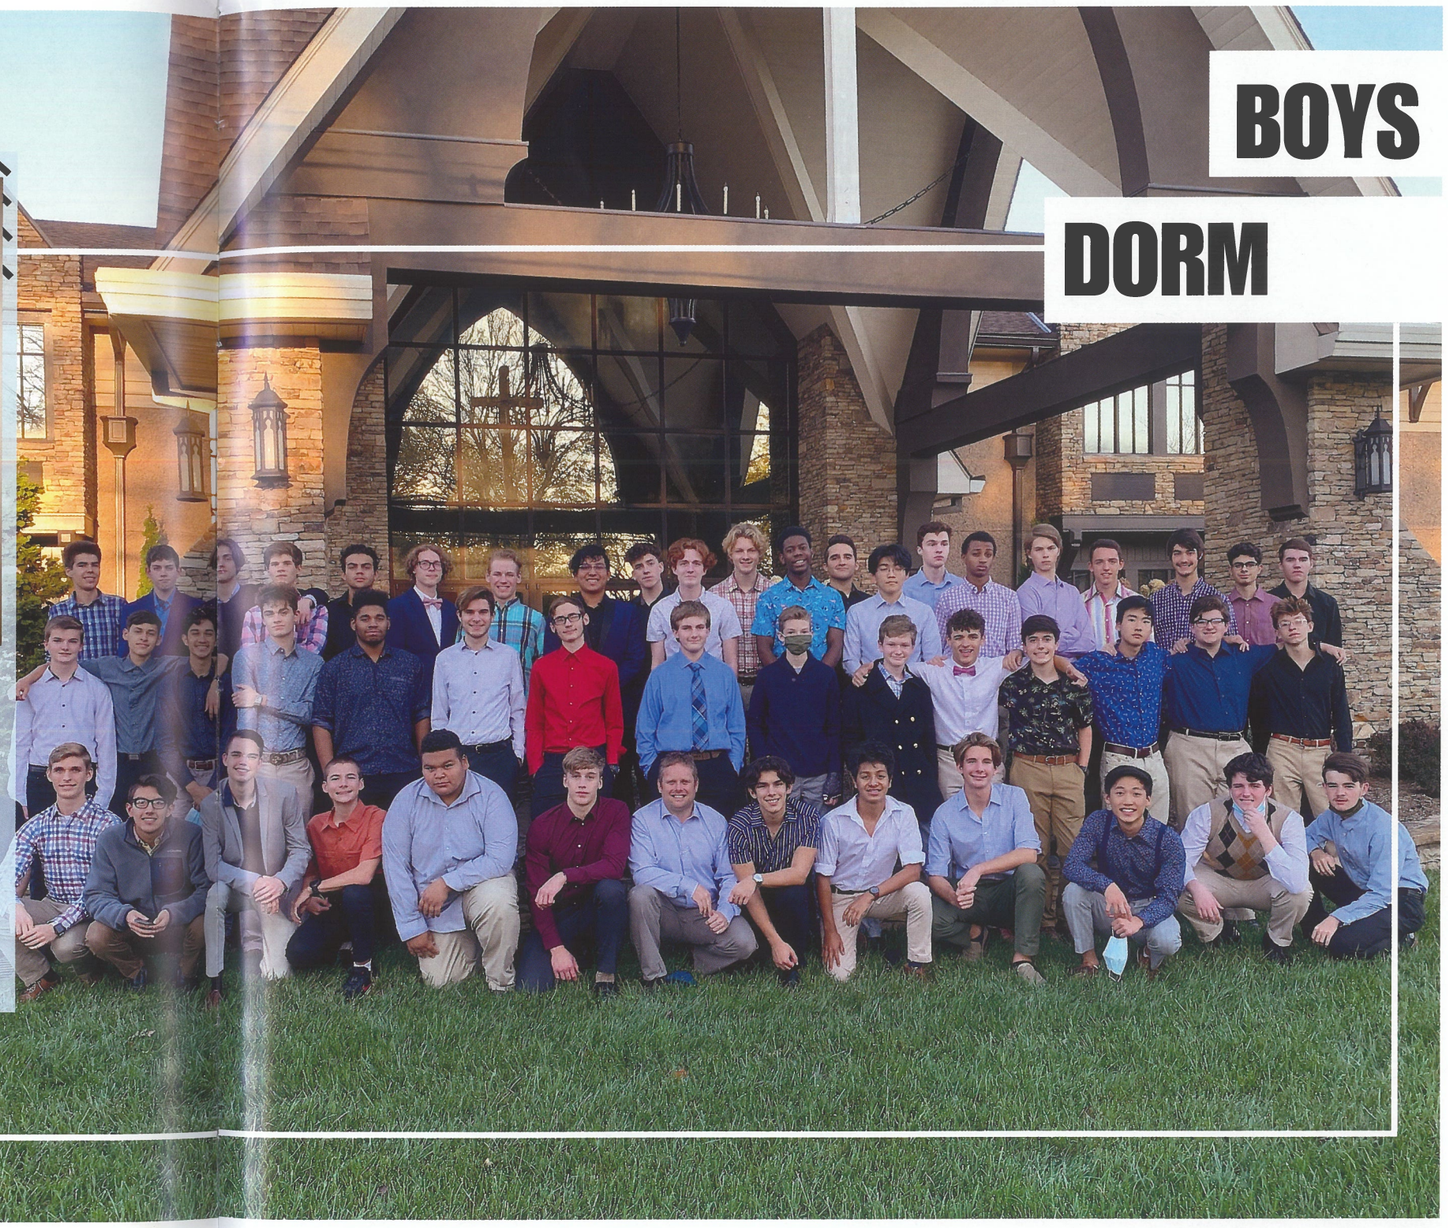

BOYS DORM

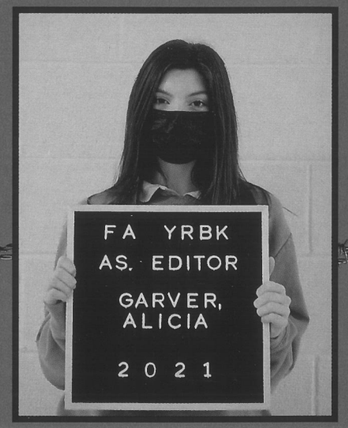

Amidst the chaos that often takes place in the dorm, music can be heard from practicing students.
